ArriveCAN Requirements for Exempt Essential Travellers

You must use ArriveCAN to provide mandatory travel information. ArriveCAN is available as a free mobile app or you can sign in to the accessible web-based version at Canada.ca/ArriveCAN. If you do not submit your information through ArriveCAN, you may be subject to fines or enforcement action.

Submit your information at any time prior to your arrival

If you're not travelling with a smartphone or a computer, you can also sign in online from any computing device, like those found in libraries or motels.

It only takes a few minutes to submit your:

- Contact information and travel details
- Vaccination information
  (New as of November 30, 2021)

Save time and create an exempt traveller profile in ArriveCAN

Enter your information once and reuse the same receipt for each entry into Canada.

You only need to create a new ArriveCAN receipt if:

- your information changes (e.g., your travel history or travel document information)
- the border services officer determines you're not travelling for essential purposes
- ArriveCAN has been updated and you're instructed to resubmit your information

Use the 'add traveller' feature to save your travel document and vaccination information in ArriveCAN for easy access if you ever need to create a new receipt.
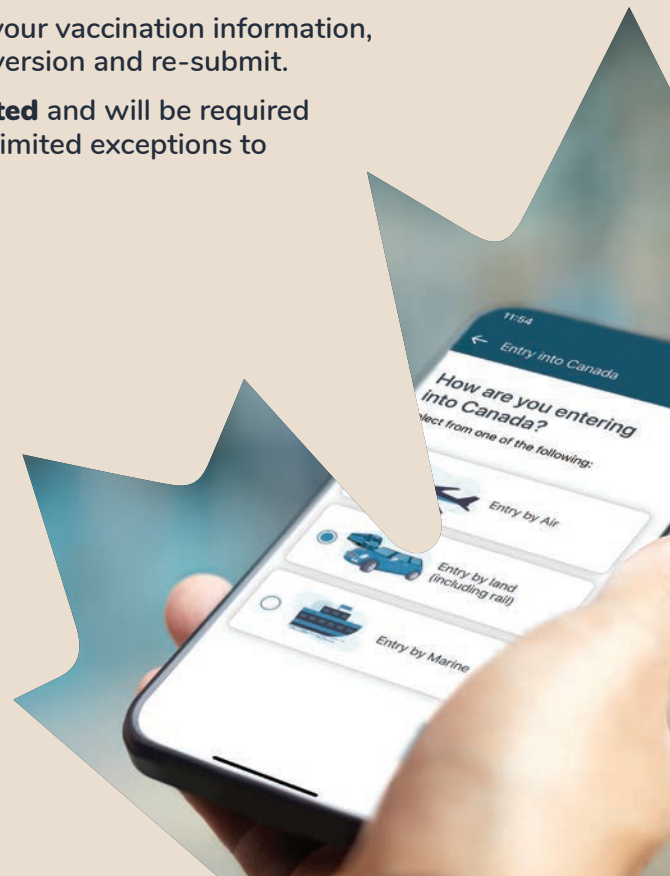

If you already created a reusable receipt, and have not entered your vaccination information, download the latest version of ArriveCAN or sign into the web version and re-submit.

REMINDER: As of January 15, 2022, you must be fully vaccinated and will be required to upload your proof of vaccination in ArriveCAN. There are limited exceptions to this requirement.
